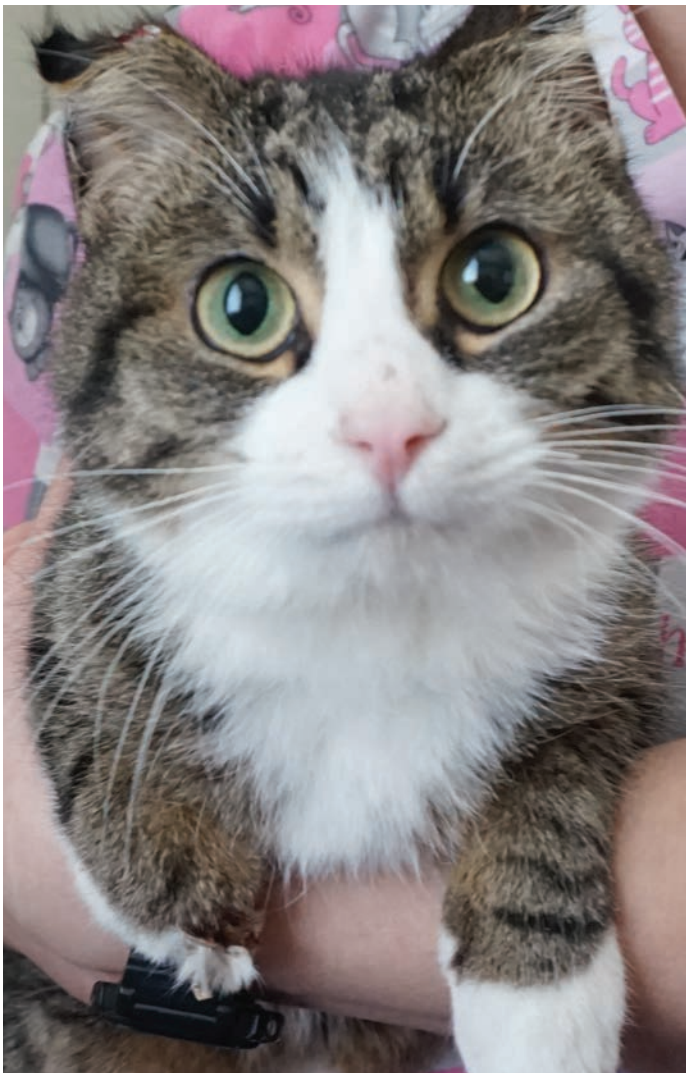
"Our Little Princess"

by Officer Marco Mascitti

Every animal at HSPC has a unique story. Some of our animals are surrendered to the Humane Society by owners who are no longer able or willing to care for their pets. Many come as strays that are either brought to the shelter or picked up by Humane Officers. In these cases, we are often unable to decipher the animal's history and their past lives remain largely unknown.



However, our staff performs rigorous behavioral and medical assessments to help unwrap our animals' backgrounds. Some pets arrive at the shelter in tip top shape, while others are clearly ill, malnourished, injured, or neglected. It is discouraging to see animals in this condition but we take pride in making whatever efforts necessary to bring them back to health and find them a great home where they will be loved and cared for.

One such case is Princess the cat. I was working on-duty one frigid evening when I was called to the western side of Portage County to pick up a cat that had wandered onto a family's porch with a foothold trap on one of her front paws.

When I arrived at the house the family had already removed the trap and placed the friendly cat in a box with a nice blanket. The trap was likely set to catch a coyote or fox, but this one was rusted and clearly quite old. Imagine poor Princess trekking through below-zero temperatures, battling the sleet and howling wind, treading the rigid, frozen ground searching for shelter of any kind, all the while dragging a heavy steel trap behind her!

Leg-hold traps are designed to hold an animal by their ankle, and when used properly should not cause physical harm to the animal. This trap, however, caught Princess by the paw and pinched her toes in the jaws' sturdy hold. With her circulation cut off, the skin around the toes froze and she was left with nothing but bone tips sticking out from her tangled fur, her paw turned into a claw.

I drove back to the shelter on cold, quiet country roads and situated her in a kennel. I was concerned during the ride that she may need immediate veterinary attention and it was late at night with no other staff at the shelter. However, when we got to HSPC and I took a closer look she seemed to be in no pain at all; in fact she was quite affectionate. It seemed that all she was interested in was being pet.

In the days that followed Princess made a few trips to the vet. Despite her positive attitude, her condition was still concerning. First off, she was quite skinny and all her bones could be easily felt through her fur. She was also placed on antibiotic treatment and painkillers for her paw. Despite her hardships, she has made an encouraging recovery, gaining a pound in her first week at the shelter.

Princess will likely require future vet visits to ensure she has a full recovery from the injured paw, but her resilience has boosted everyone's spirits here at the Humane Society. Her story shows that it can be a tough world for animals, but also serves as a reminder of why we do what we do. Thanks to our resources and community support, as well as the caring family who took her in, Princess should have a bright future ahead of her.

Our Everyday Wish List

Canned cat food (Friskies pate)
Canned dog food
Adult and kitten dry food (Iams, Royal Canin, Purina Pro)
Cat & Dog toys
KMR Kitten Milk Replacer (Liquid or Powder)
Mr Clean liquid cleaner
Bleach
Liquid Laundry Soap

A special need!

Each day our dogs need to get exercise and spend time in a place where they can run. Normally we use our outdoor play pens and walks provided by volunteers. When we have inclement weather we stay indoors and use our hallways and education room.

Over the past two years we have experimented with ways to fence off portions of the building to allow the dogs to exercise while keeping both the dogs and humans in the shelter safe.

We want to install four heavy duty collapsible security gates to provide a permanent and easy to use solution to create play areas for the dogs. When not in use these gates collapse and pivot against the wall. Each gate costs about $500.

Anything you can do to financially support our efforts will be greatly appreciated.

From The Desk of The Executive Director - Chris Langenfeld

It is often said, "It takes a village…" The origin of the saying is a mystery. However, it is commonly believed that it came from indigenous peoples who depended on each other for everything from child-rearing to food-gathering. Our modern world tends to promote independence and individual accomplishment. However, it is when we come together as a group, working towards a common goal, that we shine! This is especially true in animal welfare. Part of our mission is to rescue, reunite and re-home lost and abandoned pets. To accomplish this, we need the support of the entire community "village".

To help us succeed at rescuing animals in need, we need to know which animals need rescuing. If you see an animal that appears lost or abandoned, we want to know about it. Our Humane Officers are on duty 24/7/365. Reuniting lost pets with their families is one of the most rewarding things we do. We encourage everyone to microchip their pets for easy identification when they are lost. This has been so effective that we have been able to return pets to their owners within the hour because of the microchip.

Rehoming pets is an activity we take very seriously. Our goal is to find each and every pet in need of a home… a forever home. To do so, we employ what we like to call a best match program. Every pet in our care gets a personality assessment. That assessment helps us identify their needs. Once identified, we are able to seek a home that has what that pet requires. As soon as we find that home, we complete the adoption process. That is the heart and soul of what we do.

Helping to Keep Pets in Their Home

By: Jenny Knutson

Do you have troubles finding answers and the resources to help you with common behavior problems? Not sure where to look or what to look for? Lack of training and understanding are often what assist in pets making their way into shelters, and out of homes.

Jumping up, barking, pawing, high energy and being destructive are all common traits that can be difficult and challenging to deal with. With some time and dedication, from both the pet and owner, these behavior issues can be managed or possibly eliminated.

HSPC is developing a place to get helpful information, tips & tricks, educate and to ask questions on common canine or feline behaviors you are looking for assistance with. It is being organized by two Dog Training Instructors who will soon be certified as Canine Behavior Consultants. Together they have many years of experience with dogs and cats and resolving their problems.

Informational articles, tips on common behaviors, basic care, and educational videos will be available. Watch the HSPC Facebook page and web site for announcements in February.

We look forward to providing this resource to help pets stay in their homes!

Here are five of our residents that have been waiting very patiently for a loving home. Please stop in to meet them. They all desperately want a forever home! Might you be the answer to their wish?

Changing Seasons as an HSPC Humane Officer

by Officer Marco Mascitti

Working as a Humane Officer presents never-ending variety. On any given day, we could be picking up stray cats, visiting farms, rescuing injured pets, inspecting kennels, or chasing peacocks; often all of the above. Our work entails saving animals, educating the public, and when necessary, holding people accountable when they aren't being responsible pet owners. The most rewarding parts of the job are reuniting owners with their pets and finding homes for pets who don't already have one.

One interesting aspect of the Humane Officer life is how things change with the seasons. Much of what goes on at the Humane Society is tied to seasonal patterns with regard to weather and animal biology. As we all know, spring time is when the most cats have their young, what we affectionately call "kitten season" at the shelter. We find a steady flow of young cats into the shelter during the warmer months, usually tapering off as fall and winter approach. This year, kitten season has lasted unusually long but thanks to our dedicated team of volunteers and fosterers we are able to find the right home for each pet.

As the weather cools and snow covers the ground, we encounter certain calls more frequently. Concerned citizens often call about dogs and cats in vehicles while their owners are working or shopping. Additionally, we are often summoned to perform welfare checks and make sure everyone is providing proper shelter for their pets during the fierce Wisconsin winter. Portage County Ordinance 4.9.10 dictates the shelter requirements for domestic animals. The ordinance provides criteria for shelter from inclement weather (including heavy sunlight), proper sanitation, space guidelines, and other components of good shelter. The county Animal Control Ordinances provide a good checklist not only for us as Humane Officers, but for pet owners as well to be sure they are providing their pets with the basic requirements. Pet owners can consult with the Humane Society or their veterinarian to learn more about proper winter care for pets. It is important to do your research as each individual animal may have their own specific needs.

At the beginning of each year we also inspect the commercial animal establishments within Portage County, such as boarding kennels, stables, and breeders. These businesses must apply for a special permit to operate within the county, part of the permit process is a site visit from a Humane Officer.

We generally see a decrease in calls about lost animals being spotted, we largely attribute this to the fact that people are outside less in the colder months, and we like to think that pet owners are keeping closer watch over their pets.

As the busiest months of the year come to a close, we enjoy reflecting on the past year and all that has happened at the shelter and in the field. The Humane Officer Department has had many success stories this year, here are a few:

• We have reunited over 200 lost pets with their owners this year. With the help of our website, social media, and microchips we work to get pets back home as soon as possible.
• We have rescued and found homes for numerous injured pets; recently Nosey was adopted, a cat whose back legs didn't work but who quickly became a shelter-favorite.
• Officer Kala Frueh assisted in finding a new home for a horse who needed veterinary attention
• Officer Emily Carlson rescued Sonny the dog from the side of a road, after a driver had spotted her shivering in the cold. Sonny was soon adopted by a loving family.
• After an out-of-state dog owner had a medical emergency in Stevens Point, Officers Emily Carlson and Marco Mascitti assisted in caring for the dog at HSPC and reuniting the pair when the owner was released from the hospital

We also have a few reminders for pet owners this winter:

• License your dogs (and cats, if your municipality requires it). Dog licenses can be purchased from the Humane Society, or your municipal center. State and county law requires all dogs to be licensed. To purchase a license you will need proof of current rabies vaccination for each pet.
• Check that your pets have appropriate shelter at home and leave pets at home while shopping, eating out; please don't leave them in the car in hot or cold weather
• Have fresh water available at all times and keep an eye on your pet's paws if going for frequent walks.
• Have your pet microchipped. This makes reuniting you with your pet much faster should they wander off.

What to Do If You See a Pet Left Out in the Cold

It can be a crime to leave pets outside in extreme temperatures without food and shelter.

Cold weather can be deadly for pets. As the temperature plummets in many parts of the country, The Humane Society sees an increase in the number of complaints about dogs and cats who have been left outside with no food or shelter. Pets left outside in extreme temperatures, especially without food and shelter, are at risk of hypothermia, frostbite and even death. Their owners are also at risk of facing criminal charges. The act of leaving a pet outside without food or adequate shelter often receives less attention than a violent attack against an animal, but neglect is a crime. “Especially in these cold months, it is important for people to bring pets inside.

Animals left outside in dangerous weather are investigated more by police and animal control agencies than any other form of animal abuse. Our most constant companions—dogs and cats—feel the effects of winter weather as much as we do. A common misconception is that the fur on their backs will insulate them from suffering. This is not accurate. Without proper shelter, food and water, these domesticated animals’ chances of survival in frigid temperatures are greatly decreased. Any pet owners who aren’t sure what protections their pets need during cold weather can call the shelter and ask for advice about keeping pets safe.

Animal welfare views and laws vary from region to region. There are laws in place in every state to prevent needless suffering. Animal neglect is considered a misdemeanor crime in all 50 states and Washington, D.C. Felony penalties can be levied in Massachusetts and Oklahoma for any animal neglect case. Felony charges can be applied in animal neglect resulting in death in California, Connecticut, Florida and Washington, D.C. You can help by reporting what you see. Take note of the date, time, exact location and the type of animal(s) involved and write down as many details as possible about the situation including video and photographic documentation of the animal, the location, the surrounding area, etc. Report your findings to the animal control department at the shelter. Working together, we can help prevent cruelty, abuse and neglect!

Become a Foster

Our foster program could not survive without foster parents. Because we have generous foster parents ready and willing to provide temporary housing and lots of love, we are able to help these pets at just the right time. Some fosters only have their foster pets for a week or two. Others have them long enough to work on training, to develop trust, and to recover from injuries or ailments. Foster parents are integral in helping a homeless pet transition smoothly into a forever home, which is always a critter’s best day!

Fostering is an incredibly rewarding experience. There is nothing like comparing the “before” pictures of your foster pet in the shelter with the “after” pictures in his or her new adoptive home! Of course, fostering is not without challenges, but HSPC adoption staff will be there to help you through any bumps in the road you may encounter.

Foster homes make a significant difference in the lives of the critters they care for. The impact of the love and support they provide is immeasurable. Another key role is that they help us open up valuable space to take in another homeless cat or dog. There is nothing better than when you realize that by helping one animal you can actually help two or more!

HSPC Foster Animal Care Program

We are expanding our foster care program and are looking for more people to sign up. Not every home is the best match for the critters we are trying to place. The more people that sign up for the program, the better chance we have of matching our critters in need to the most appropriate placement. Most of the warmer months are referred to here as “kitten season”. During those months we have an influx of kittens and a heightened need for foster caregivers. It is well documented that a kitten’s physical and mental well being benefit from foster care.

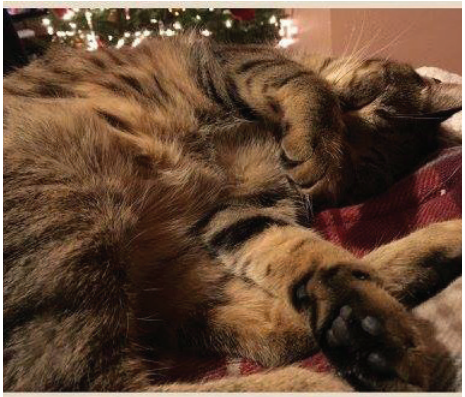
Not every animal is eligible for the foster program. Animals eligible for foster care are those identified as being adoptable upon completion of the program. Animals are placed in foster care for various reasons. They include, but are not limited to: weight gain requirements, special socialization needs, young age, wound healing, minor injuries, cruelty cases and upper respiratory infection (URI).

When you become a pet foster caregiver you will be given all the supplies you need. However, some caregivers prefer to provide all the supplies themselves as a donation to the shelter.

Can we crash at your place for awhile?

Happy Tails - stories about adopted animals & shelter visitors

COCOA
Sabrina Rosenow says “Cocoa enjoying a Jamocha shake. My Mom adopted her in August of 2016. Cocoa is so much fun, with a little bit of mischief to keep you guessing.”



DINAH/Phoebe & OLLI/Robin Yount
Maria Mohr says “Happy Holidays! Just dropping a line to thank your staff for our wonderful kitty addition to our family. We adopted Dinah (grey) in July 2016 and Olli (Brown) a couple months later. We initially wanted a ‘confident’ cat due to having dogs, and boy was she ever! She is super caring and motherly and even checks up on us when we get excited during Packer games. When Olli came into the home, she really disliked him!... but our search criteria had been ‘sweet’, and ‘loving’. Again, a perfect recommendation. Olli has never shown any aggression, even when Dinah had tested his spirits. They are the best of friends now. Napping, bathing, and cuddling with their dog brother, Toby. This will be their second Christmas with us, and we can’t wait to have many more. You all really know your animals like the back of you hands! Best wishes to all of you, thank you for working hard every day for the more needful furry friends.”

BEAR & LACY LU
Trina Liebl-Golla says “As another year comes to an end...I am reminded how fortunate I am that I was chosen to be Bear & Lacy Lu’s mom. we’ve celebrated 10 years with Bear and 7 with Lacy Lu! Thank you for my furbabies and all that you do.”

GRACIE GRAY/Anne Love RIP
Amanda Orzel says “Our first rescue kitty would not leave our back room for weeks. She would meow and cry at night. After a while of giving her space and time to adjust she became a wonderful loving part of our family until she passed last year. I will always remember our Gracie Gray (formerly Anne Love), and do not regret for one minute giving her time to adjust.”

VINNY/Bowie
Shari Denenberg says “Bowie is now Vinnie and is learning many new things. He loves being at St. Vinnies with one of my other dogs, Jackson, and he loves being at home with his brothers and sisters! We love him.”

BELLE/Annabelle
Barbara Woyak says “Belle is doing so well. Just got back from first vet visit. Glucose at 262, not too bad. No insulin at this time. Yaayyyy. She is such a sweet cat. Thank you.”

GIZMO/Kelly Katmeowski & MAJA
Becky Koutre Cook says “Brought Kelly Katmeowski, now Gizmo, home last November and Maja joined our family a week ago. She had no troubles settling in. Thank you for all you to care for and socialize these beautiful rescues. Your hearts are reflected in each and every one. God Bless."

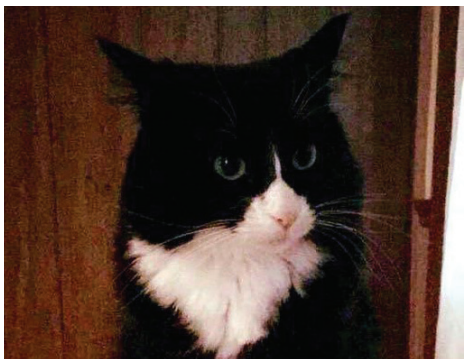
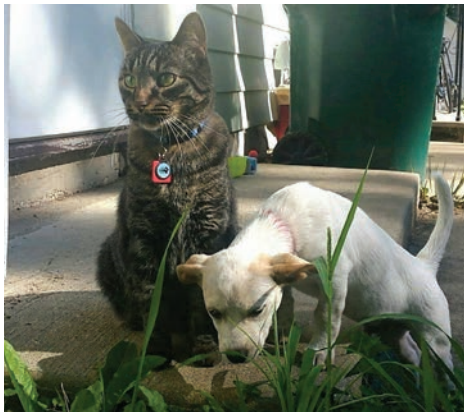
SOPHIE/Celia
Amy Christensen says "Happy gotcha day to our Princess Sophie! 6 years ago today Sierra Calabria took me to meet you and her soon to be cat Mr. Fritz and you've never spent a day without a loving family since! Adopt don't shop people, they are more than worth it Thank you Portage County!!!"



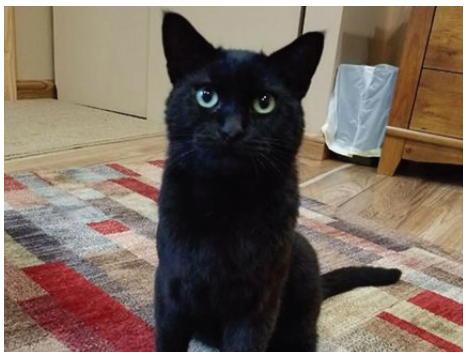
FRANCESCA/Doughnut
Chelsea Leahy says "Last week was Francesca's one week Adoptaversary! She has been such a delight to have for the last year. Frankie adores her big brother Ari (my black lab mix) and follows him around the house, licks his ears, and basically acts like an annoying little sister. She loves people, cuddling, eating feet while we're sleeping (she likes to attack them through the covers) and getting fed at the same time as her big brother, even if her bowl is still full of food. I'm still learning how to be a mom to a long-haired cat (lots of brushing and Swiffering needed) but she is such a beautiful girl. Thanks to HSPC for this fluff puff!"



THOMAS O'MALLEY
Erin Schober says "Shelter alum Thomas O'Malley the cat (adopted December 2015) with his puppy brother. I wasn't sure how he'd handle a dog in the house, but he's been a great "big brother" and the dog follows him around like... well, a puppy! They're a good little duo!"

PAISLEY PURRK/Alabama
Jen Brilowski says "Paisley Purrk (formerly Alabama) has been with us for a little more than a year and she continues to fill our days with games of fetch, a soft rubbable tummy, and almost ridiculous cuteness. I've found some great deals at St. Vinnies, but this girl was definitely the best find ever. Thank you for saving her for us."

CHARLES/Tickles
Sam Hogue says "Just over 3 months and Charles (aka Tickles) has settled in very well. He loves to play and cuddle. When he gets tired from playing too hard he curls up in a ball and covers his face. He has also warmed up to his fur brother and on occasion they nap together! Thank you PCHS for making our first time adopting such a great experience!"



MARIO/Potatoe
Carm Iwanski says "I recently adopted "Potatoe" (aka: Mario). From the moment Mario reached up his paw to the plexi-glass to touch at my hand and get my attention at HSPC, he had my heart! He has settled in very well right from the moment he walked in our door!! I have adopted from HSPC before. I love the staff here. It is a great facility and for anyone that may be considering a pet adoption; I encourage you to stop by and check things out. Truly an excellent place to adopt your furr-friend!"

COOPER/Jake & OLLIE/Rob
Kerren Kollock says "Today officially marks one year since the "adoption day" of these two sweet boys! So happy I came home with both of these bundles of joy. They've comforted me, made me laugh, and always keep me on my toes. Humane Society of Portage County these were previously Jake and Rob held at Jay-Mar. Now Cooper and Ollie."

The upgrade was ordered in 2017 and we expect delivery any day. Actual photos will appear in the next newsletter.

Thank you again for all of your heartfelt donations!
